

SOUTH SHORE DERMATOLOGY PHYSICIANS, PC, WELCOMES NEW DOCTOR

Katalin Kovalszki, MD, joins region's fastest-growing dermatology practice

People needing medical, surgical, or cosmetic skin treatments now have a new option for care.

Katalin “Kate” Kovalszki, MD, has begun seeing patients at South Shore Dermatology Physicians, PC, (SSDP), 31 Roche Bros. Way, Suite 200, North Easton. She is the fifth dermatologist to join the new practice.

An associate of the American Academy of Dermatology (AAD) and a member of the Caritas Good Samaritan Medical Center medical staff, Dr. Kovalszki holds a B.A. degree in English and an M.D. degree, both from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. She completed an internship in internal medicine and a residency in dermatology at the University of Michigan Medical Center where she received the “You’re Super” award for outstanding patient care in 2006. She was a presenter at the Annual AAD Meeting in 2008, and she is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

In her new position, Dr. Kovalszki will uphold SSDP’s mission of providing excellence in the diagnosis and treatment of people with a broad array of skin conditions, including acne, allergic reactions, eczema/dermatitis, moles and birthmarks, malignant melanoma, non-melanoma skin cancers, pre-cancerous skin lesions, psoriasis, rashes, skin infections, sun damage, and warts. Her goal, she says, is to “effectively understand my patients’ needs, to educate them about their condition in a thorough manner, and to provide them with quality and compassionate care.”

SSDP founding partner Viraj Shroff-Mehta, MD, says the practice is delighted to welcome Dr. Kovalszki to the group. “There is a growing need for dermatologists in our area and SSDP is working hard to meet that need by recruiting this talented, young physician to our staff,” Shroff-Mehta explains. “With her help, SSDP will continue to provide the community with the excellent dermatological services and care they need and expect.”
